New for Spring and Summer 2012!

The 2012 Spring/Summer term's programme has a slightly different format. Instead of a set idea for each two week period everyone will be able to choose their favourite topic, and concentrate on that for a whole term

The plan is to try a number of different media, so you will all be using a variety of materials and techniques eg: collage, wash-out method, mixed media, as well as the customary paints, pastels, pencils etc.

You can try abstract or even impressionism – anything goes! In addition there will be mini-demonstrations throughout the term to encourage you to try different processes. These will be led by Ted Baker (oil painting), Monica Clarke (water based oils), Sue Burgess (watercolour), and Mark Davies (Acryllic) and me!

Assistance of course will still be on hand as always, and we do have a small selection of various materials for you to try before you go to the expense of buying something new, so that you know if you will enjoy using something different.

I hope this will engage everyone's imagination and inspire you to produce some exciting results.
